Now he advertises that he will sell the teeth at auction to the highest bidder, as they stand in the mouth of their present pessessor. On course there will be keen competition for these grinders, It is with a set of teeth as it is with a pair of shoes, both are better liked after they have been broken in. Hence it can be expected that bidding for the educated set of teeth in the Derby man's mouth will be spirited and possibly exciting.
